HISTORY.

Beginning with twelve enrolled students, the Messiah Bible School and Missionary Training Home grew in work, interest and numbers. After its first year's work, it had in the educational field several representatives as teachers. Its Missionary Department also was represented as far away as South Africa. Students in a number of cases were our best solicitors.

From twelve students the number increased during the first year to thirty seven, and during the second year to more than fifty. This is more than a thirty per cent increase.

The number of instructors has increased from five to seven during the first year, and from seven to nine during the second.

LOCATION.

I. Historic.

The historic site of the Messiah Bible School and Missionary Training Home is 46 North 12th St., Harrisburg, Pa. The concrete structure is three storied and spacious. Its elevetad position gives it observational prestige. Its close contact with several institutions of learning and with the State Library, tended to enchance its position. For these reasons its educational advantages were exceptionally desirable.

But the limited accommodations, as well as the general undesirable state of morality existing in the city, made it necessary to choose a less limited site and purer moral environment.

2. Permanent.

The school's permanent site is in the south eastern part of the scenic Cumberland Valley, at Grantham, ten miles southwest of its first home (Harrisburg).

Far famed is Cumberland Valley. Cities and towns lie stretched along its fertile plains. Numerous educational institutions stand as monuments to its inhabitants, of intellectual integrity and social advancement; but if shorn of these the Valley still retains is own rare beauty of varied scenic landscape, its wealth of flora, its geological rarities, and its peaceful nestling homesteads.

Grantham is little more than a growing hamlet, but it has received the valley's crowning benediction. Meandering streams, wooded hilltops, fertile, verdant meadows and charming stretches of vision, heighten the general beauty of this place, and silently breathe Nature's most eloquent praise to Nature's God.

Railroad Accommodations.

The Cumberland Valley branch of the Reading Railway passes through Grantham, bringing the school into convenient touch with Harrisburg, Gettysburg, and Carlisle and Shippensburg. There are five trains to and from Grantham both ways, daily, except Sunday when there is but one train each way.

THE PURPOSE OF THE DIFFERENT COURSES.

The different courses offered by this institution aim to give the student the necessary discipline and culture to qualify him, to enter the world's arena without a handicap as to mental training and moral stamina, and to faithfully represent the standard of conduct implied in the name of the school. Considerable prominence is given to Bible study and it is hoped that many of the students as they complete their courses will engage in active Christian work. Specialization in studies is not advisable until a general comprehensive foundation has been laid. The time one should spend in school must be determined by the individual. We have yet to hear of that individual who regretted having had too much education; but there are many who keenly feel their lack of it.

In order that prospective students may be able to more clearly determine what course of studies to pursue, a description of the different courses is subjoined.

I. GENERAL PREPARATORY COURSE.

The requirement for entrance to this course is, a good common school education, or an equivalent to the entrance requirements of the average high school. This course is required to be completed before entering upon any of the regular courses as outlined, Its primal purpose is to serve, as its name implies, as a preparation for entrance into the courses presented.

The school will, for the time being, endeavor to meet the need of students of lower grades, but it believes that there is no special advantage in students attending a boarding school, who are lacking the entrance requirements, so long as the entrance requirements are taught in the home district school.

Students entering the school from other institutions will be required to take examinations if entrance is desired into any year above the general preparatory course, unless holding certificates from recognized institutions.

2. BIBLE COURSES.

All the students in the institution are required to devote some time to Bible study. The work given to the general student body is mostly in the form of lectures in which a general outline of the Bible is given and some of the questions of the Bible critic answered.

In order to graduate in the regular Bible and Missionary Training courses a person must pass the studies in the general preparatory course first. Bible subjects may be taken up by special students without meeting the full entrance requirements; but experience has taught that satisfactory results cannot be attained in advanced studies without a thorough knowledge of the fundamental branches.

The Bible courses are arranged to meet the needs of the Bible and Sunday School workers and prospective Missionaries. The experience of Missionaries is that a thorough education is very essential to do the most effective work. The great need of Missionaries being educated has in a large measure been the cause of the establishment of the Messiah Bible School.

(a) Special Bible Term.

On January 25, 1913, the fourth annual Bible Term will open and continue for nine days.

If we can judge by results obtained in the previous Special Bible Terms we can strongly recommend the course as a rare opportunity for ministers and church workers to better qualify themselves for their work. The Conference of 1912 resulted in a great spiritual revival with a widespread influence for good; and it is to be hoped that the term of 1913 will be even more productive of good.

The teachers and subjects will be a matter for future Visitor.

3. ACADEMIC COURSES.

a. ENGLISH SCIENIFIC COURSE.

arrangement. Due notice will be given in the Evangical The English Scientific course is purposed to give a basic instruction in the sciences. It is a very desirable course for those who wish an elementary knowledge of the different sciences and arts. Also it will give a general introduction into the study of languages, and a special preparation for extended study in English. Those completing this course will be enabled to meet the requirements for teaching in township district schools.

All fiden

b. COLLEGE PREPARATORY COURSE.

This course aims to meet the average requirements for entrance into the regular College course of the standard colleges of our country. Those who do not wish to enter college, but merely to get a good English education, which will fit them for business or teaching, will find this course adequate for that purpose.

4. NORMAL COURSES.

a. PEDAGOGICAL COURSE.

One of the aims of this school is to thoroughly prepare students, desiring to teach in high schools, to meet the strongest possible State requirements, In addition to giving a general instruction in the elements of science, and language, the course offers special instruction in educational Pedagogy as related to the history of, theory of, and practice in, teaching.

This course at present more than meets the requirements, and will be enlarged and strengthened as the needs demand.

b. SUMMER COURSE.

For students who have several conditions in their courses, but more particularly for those students who are otherwise engaged during the school year, a six weeks summer session has been established. The first year's work is very encouraging, representing in fact some of the strongest studies in the advanced courses: Logic, Psychologic Foundations of Education, Sociology, Etymology, Latin, Algebra, etc. are among the subjects offered and taught. The enrollment was eight.

5. VOCAL MUSIC COURSE.

The purpose of this course is to qualify our young men and women to intelligently interpret the standard compositions of the great masters of music, and to conduct creditably music classes and special song services.

It aims to train the ear and voice, and, along with the Bible, to make possible, singing full of grace and beauty.

6. COMMERCIAL COURSE.

In the complete commercial course we are prepared to give a thorough training in business fundamentals.

The work is conducted on the actual business plan and is made to compare favorably with that of the best commercial colleges.

In the bookkeeping department the student is taught the theory of accounts, banking, office routine and general business practice and is made competent to open, conduct, and close in either single or double entry according to scientific principles and established usage the books of any kind of business.

7. AGRICULTURAL COURSE.

The school, being located in the country, with land accessible for practical work, will afford an excellent opportunity to develop a course suited to the needs of those intending to make farming their life work.

The school is not in position at this time to offer a specialized course in agriculture. Students who are prospective farmers are advised to take one years study in agriculture and botany by which means they will be able to secure a general knowledge of the science of agriculture, that will serve as a basis for future studies.

EXPENSES.

Nearly all the higher institutions of learning depend on endowments as a partial means of support. In few schools is the student obliged to pay full value for that which he receives.

Although we have a small temporary endowment it is inadequate to meet the current expenses. And since the students are directly bnefited we have fixed such rates as will have them share in the burden, and enable us to provide for efficient instruction and suitable apparatus, so that the courses offered may compare favorably to like courses in other institutions.

PHYSICAL CULTLRE.

The Messiah Bible School and Missionary Training Home

recognizing the imperative need of a systematic development of all the normal powers of man, has found it expedient to insist upon a certain amunt of physical exercise. This school intends in no way to affiliate itself with the modern irrational forms of games. It however encourages both indoor training and outdoor exercise of a safe and rational nature.

MORAL AND LITERARY CULTURE.

RELIGIOUS MEETINGS.

The special activities of the School afford the student religious and moral as well as intellectual training.

Besides the Sabbath schools and regular church services of the Lord's day, a Young People's meeting in charge of one of the students is held every Sunday evening preceeding the regular preaching service.

A mid-week prayer meeting together with the daily Bible study and devotional exercises gives the students still futher opportunity for spiritual growth and development.

THE MISSIONARY CIRCLE.

The organization holds meetings every Saturday evening and aims to have topics for discussion of special interest to those who contemplate engaging in mission work, although the membership is not limited to such and all who join will find the meeting interesting.

"Religions of Mission Fields," was studied during the past year in connection with specially assigned subjects.

The "Circle" has opened correspondence with missionaries in the different fields and letters received from those in the work are always full of interest to its members.

THE PURITY ASSOCIATION.

Students will find in this organization benefits not to be obtained from any of the other school activities.

A carefully selected list of books on purity and kindred subjects, with lectures on important subjects are the special features the association has to offer its members.

THE LITERARY SOCIETY.

The Literary Society meets every Friday evening and aims to train the students in public address and parlimentary rules governing deliberative bodies. The Ability to express one's thoughts intelligently before an audience is an accomplishment that every one should possess. Although active work in the society is not compulsory, all the students are urged to avail themselves of this means of development and culture.

SUGGESTIONS.

I. Come at the opening of the term and remain until its close,

2. The Fall term is the best time to commence your course. 3. Give each subject in the course its full amount of attention.

5, Be prompt and regular in your attendence upon classes. 6. Regard all the regulations of the school as intended for your benefit.

EQUIPMENT.

A steady growth has been noticeable in our possessed resources for efficient work.

(a) Library:-Already the school possesses a library of several hundred volumes, representing science, literature, history, Philosophy and religion. In addition to these volumes, the available library represented by the Faculty, numbers nearly three thousand volumes, and several thousand valuable agricultural pamphlets.

(b) Museum.-Through the kindness of Bishop H. P. Steigerwald, a museum has benn made possible, A number of rare articles of attire and weapons of defense, made and used by the natives of South Africa, were presented for placing in the school museum, when created.

The wealth of geological and floral specimens of the vicinity will make possible a rapid enlargement of this department.

(c) Labratory.-The labratory is equipped with proper apparatus for physical experimentation and chemical classwork. The necessary chemicals for chemical experiments will be supplied as necessity demands.

(d) Apparatus.-Surveying instruments for practical use are available. A large six-inch lens telescope will be used in astronomy. Maps, charts, globes, etc., used in geography aid in bettering our equipment.

A skeleton complete was presented to the school for use in teaching physiology.

ENDOWMENT FUNDS,

Few if any of the higher institutions of learning are without endowments. If the Messaih Bible School and Missionary Training Home is to fulfill its mission as an efficient help in the training of the rising generation, there will need be a hearty co-operation on the part of its friends in the way of supplying ample funds for the work. As the number of students increases, enlarged buildings and increased equipment will be needed. There are often worthy young men and women who have a desire to attend school, but cannot for lack of funds. We believe that a special endowment should be established to aid such students.

For the benefit of those wishing to help in this laudable work, suitable forms of pledges are given below.
